

January 10, 1983

Information About the Population Policy of the DPRK

Citation:

"Information About the Population Policy of the DPRK", January 10, 1983, Wilson Center Digital Archive, BStU, MfS, HA II/10, Nr. 63, p. 289. Obtained and translated by Thomas Stock. <https://digitalarchive.umd.edu/document/208249>

Summary:

Reports suggest that North Korea is cracking down on illegal internal migration, although many young people are still living in Pyongyang without proper permits.

Credits:

This document was made possible with support from Kyungnam University

Original Language:

German

Contents:

Translation - English

Hauptabteilung II □□□□□□ Berlin, 1/10/83

Top Secret □□□□□□ Information No.: 31665/11/83

Information

About the Population Policy of the DPRK

According to reliable sources in the Korean capital Pyongyang, since 11/15/82, state organs of the DPRK have been instructed that with immediate effect an unauthorized change of residence of any Korean citizen without permission of the security and state organs is not allowed and punishable with prison time. The security and police organs have been admonished to more intensively conduct checks.

Recently, in Pyongyang and other large cities, the seizure of youth and former students, who were cared for by relatives, has increased. Due to material considerations, a large number of university graduates repeatedly attempted to escape an assignment to the countryside or other parts of the DPRK and have illegally gone into hiding in Pyongyang. It has also become known that residency documents were purchased from members of the police.