Pyongyang, 28 June 1965

Confidential

R e p o r t
about an Information from 24 June 1965

The embassy was informed about the following:

□□ 2,00 Won are deducted from workers' wages:

- a) 1,00 Won for the support of South Vietnam
  - b) 0,50 Won for the support of the revolutionary movement in South Korea
  - c) 0,50 Won for the support of those who were sent to the countryside to plant rice.
- In addition, everybody is asked to donate one daily ration of rice to the rice planters.

□□ [political] meetings one talks about rising living standards after the end of the Seven-Year-Plan. Then there will be plenty to eat.

□□ the countryside vegetables are about 80 Dzon to 1,00 Won more expensive than in the capital.

□□ there is an increasing level of war psychosis among the people. For instance, one advises friends not to buy a table or a wardrobe since a war is imminent.

□□ A week ago, four men are said to be publicly executed in Nampo (in front of the population); three for theft and manslaughter, one for adultery and poisoning of his wife (it was said to be a forced marriage, and he had hoped to marry the love of his youth after poisoning his wife). Meanwhile the embassy received confirmation of this news also from another reliable source.

□□ The embassy was informed that the child of a GDR citizen in the Nampo primary school is called "Dogil saram" when the other children are angry with it.
