On March 14, 1944, during a visit to Los Angeles GREGORI KHEIFETS, Vice Consul for U.S.S.R., San Francisco, met subject at the Russian Consulate in Los Angeles and during the time both were at the Consulate subject and KHEIFETS were observed to walk back and forth outside behind the Russian Consulate for a period of approximately twenty minutes, apparently deep in conversation.

Also during a visit of KHEIFETS on March 17, 1944, he walked from the Russian Consulate to KALATOZOV's home at 4744 Los Feliz, which is approximately one and one-half blocks from the Consulate, and spent one-half hour from 4:45 P.M. to 5:15 P.M. in KALATOZOV's house. At 5:15 P.M. he returned to the Consulate and after remaining there one-half hour he walked back to KALATOZOV's a second time and spent from 5:45 P.M. until 7:45 P.M. on this date at the KALATOZOV residence.

It appears from information obtained through [redacted] that KHEIFETS is acquainted with some of the prominent motion picture personnel in Los Angeles, for example, CHARLES CHAPLIN. It also appears that KHEIFETS in his contacts with the subject makes himself current on the status of pictures in which the Russian Government is interested and which are produced in this country. Confidential National Defense Informant [redacted] in this connection reflects that KALATOZOV and his household personnel are interested in the following seven pictures:

They Shall Have Music
No Greater Love
The Russian People
Ninotchka
Tovarisch
Battle for the Ukraine
Earl of Chicago

Through a confidential source additional motion pictures of the subject have been obtained and are in the files of the Los Angeles Field Division.

Spot surveillances of subject KALATOZOV who generally travels with his interpreter, [redacted] indicate that he is in continued contact with various film studios in Los Angeles and with producer and acting personnel of these various studios. In this connection Confidential National Defense Informant [redacted] indicates that these contacts are in connection with subject's reviewing pictures produced in this country such as those set out above, in which the Russian Government has shown an interest. As an example of the above this source indicates that KALATOZOV has repeatedly requested the Cinema Committee in Moscow to advise regarding the purchase of four pictures produced by SAMUEL GOLDWYN in the United States at a price of $125,000. This source indicates that the Russian Government purchases these films for use in Russia, and KALATOZOV with his interpreter act as the representatives for these purchases.

A review of the subject's bank account reflects that on February 26, 1944, a second cable from the Soviet Union International Organization of KINO, which means the "Motion Picture Industry of U.S.S.R.", in the amount of [redacted]. This deposit brought the subject's balance as of [redacted]. The following activity was noted from February 25 through March 22 in this account:

A check for [redacted] Los Angeles, which is evidently in payment for a purchase made.

A check for [redacted], endorsed by [redacted] whose identity is set out in reference report.

A check for [redacted] endorsed by her, which is evidently salary payment to [redacted] subject's interpreter.

A check for [redacted] endorsed by the U. P. Railroad which a confidential source advises was in payment of the fare for [redacted] to New York when he left Los Angeles.

A check for [redacted] Los Angeles, which is possibly in payment for recording work done by this company for the subject in line of his official business.

A check for [redacted] Los Angeles, whose identity is not known. An [redacted] is listed in the Los Angeles Telephone Directory as a [redacted]. In view of the above which indicates that this is probably in payment for dental work done on the subject, no further investigation will be conducted on [redacted] unless he appears again and seems to get regular payments from subject KALATOZOV.

The bank account of [redacted] was also reviewed and it reflected that she has a current [redacted]. However, no pertinent activity was noted in this account during this period.

A review of mail cover, telephone toll calls, and telegrams reflects the following names, which names are being listed in anticipation of future contacts by subject with these individuals. However, these sources have reflected nothing in addition to the names:

 veillance reflects is in the same building with the above and any pertinent data regarding the above people in the indices of this office will be reported in a future report.

Confidential National Defense Informant [redacted] reflects that the subject has been in contact with JASCHA HEIFETZ, prominent violinist, with regard to his appearance on a program which was put on on the 12th of February at 11:00 A.M. over the radio, in which program the subject was interested. He requested HEIFETZ to appear on this program as a representative of Soviet culture. However, HEIFETZ declined to commit himself and later refused to accept this on the basis of prior commitments.

Reference report indicates that there was an anticipated meeting between the subject and one BORIS MORROS, motion picture producer in Los Angeles, and since that time this source has indicated that the subject of the anticipated meeting between BORIS MORROS and KALATOZOV was the purchase of a film entitled "The Russian People" by BORIS MORROS. This informant now advises that BORIS MORROS has purchased this film for his use as a producer.

This source reflects that subject KALATOZOV sent two wires to [redacted] c/o Cinema Committee, Moscow, regarding the purchase of four pictures from SAMUEL GOLDWYN at a price of $125,000. Additional telegram traffic made available through this source indicates that no definite acceptance has been made to this point. However, [redacted] has advised that they are definitely interested in three of these four pictures and are ready to pay approximately $100,000 for these.
